

FREEDOM V

A TOOL FOR TEACHING AND ENCOURAGING SELF-GOVERNANCE

Self-governance is the power to make choices, set boundaries, and steward responsibility without a dependency on external forces

WIDE BOUNDARIES
When you demonstrate an ability to navigate boundaries, more freedom is given.

SELF-GOVERNANCE
People understand expectations and create their own boundaries. You don't need the organization to create rules and boundaries for you.

Structure is there to guide us. We want individuals to have all the freedom they can handle, but not more.

FREEDOM V. CONTROL
We cannot force anyone to create their own boundaries, we can only model what it looks like to set healthy boundaries and hope we can influence them towards ownership of their own.

CONSEQUENCES

Consequences do not exist to punish, they exist to teach you how to live within the boundaries given. Consequences drive behavior.

NARROW BOUNDARIES

There are tight boundaries in place, little freedom to move, close oversight.

IF YOU GO OUT OF BOUNDS

You move back down the V, and your boundaries are tightened.

FREEDOM V

IMPLEMENTING SELF-GOVERNANCE

WITHIN AN ORGANIZATION

WHAT HAPPENS HERE?

The head of an organization implements the Freedom V and oversees its use.

LEGAL STRUCTURE NECESSARY FOR ORGANIZATION TO RUN.

IN ORDER TO CREATE A SELF-GOVERNING ORGANIZATION, YOU MUST ENABLE, EQUIP, DELEGATE, AND SET CLEAR FREEDOM V's.

WHAT HAPPENS HERE?

Authority chooses to apply the power in an "inverted" manner.
